Co-Presidents' Corner

It all begins with dialogue...

We don't know about others in AAUW, but our Facebook feeds and received e-mails have recently taken on fewer "here's what I ate for dinner" and "this is what I'm doing on vacation" themes and instead have focused on local, state, and federal politics. Seeing family and friends discuss and act on their beliefs has been inspiring. Reading about people's experiences at the women's marches in January, hearing the students present their thoughts on enacting the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) at Speech Trek, and seeing the recent encouragement from state and national AAUW leaders to become involved, has motivated us to more actively engage in public policy.

As one of the students said at Speech Trek, legislative change begins with changing thoughts and behaviors. At the last AAUW Mariposa board meeting, members discussed wanting to have an outlet for respectful debates and a way to plan actions to address policy issues. Thus, we would like to host a "Cocktails and Convo's" and/or "Coffee and Convo's" gathering in the near future to allow members to "speak up" and to help us inspire each other to act in meaningful ways. We look forward to proving the noted American anthropologist Margaret Mead's declaration: "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has." If you would like to help plan, coordinate, or facilitate this event, please let Maddie or Rebecca know.

March 7th the Board of Supervisors will again recognize "Women's History Month"

Save the date and be there!

On March 7th, the first Tuesday in March, the Mariposa County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to proclaim the Month of March as "Women's History Month." This proclamation is at the behest of our own Mariposa AAUW. We had a good contingent of AAUW members at the Board meeting last year. Let's repeat that with a strong showing at their March 7th meeting. The proclamation should take place some time between 9:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.

An Evening in

What happens when you bring together a group of passionate people, add a little inspiration and fun? You get the trip of a lifetime.

Merely a vision a couple of months ago, the fairgrounds was transformed for An Evening in Paris. Kudos for the Paris marketplace and bistro transformation are shared by a dedicated group of artists led by Margaret Brandenburg. Black and white striped awnings marked the stores and hand-painted picture windows provided a glimpse into the outside world. Jetty Uebner's inspiration for a prix fixe shop was realized and there was a line most of the evening with people choosing which tasty morsels to pair with which adorable plate. Anne Mahle's cookies were also flowing out the door as well as a few Paris items.

Le bistro was literally bursting at the seams after more than 140 people checked in. It had a magical feel as the table lights were lit and the room lights were dimmed. Our Paris travelers sipped yummy spirits and enjoyed amazing hors d'oeuvres assembled by our makers, bakers, and kitchen fairies under the guidance of Kathy Sutherland accompanied by the musical tones of Kathi and Gary.

And the piece de resistance had to be Jill Rowney's Eiffel Tower. Created to scale, Jill showed us how applied math can lead to a masterpiece. With each wooden piece hand hewn and crafted from about ten 2x4s, the scale model was the prominent center of attention in the marketplace. Party goers ohh'd and ahhh'd at its beauty. Lit with twinkly lights, the tower rose 12 feet above the street.

Our efforts at transformation would have had little meaning if the room wasn't filled to the brim with partygoers enjoying the event, bidding on auction items and learning more about what AAUW does for our community.

It's tempting to just bask in the glory of a good party but we should remember that the reason we gathered was to raise funds to support our community projects. And we were successful! We raised nearly nine thousand dollars to support our programs. So many people played a part in our success. One of the challenges with trying to acknowledge everyone is that you have the opportunity to miss someone. Please accept my apologies in advance if I've neglected to include you. It's not intentional, just fatigue! For those of you who stayed to convert the fairgrounds back to normal – thank you. It was an amazing process to watch.

Please also take an opportunity to share my thanks with your family. Many of you were accompanied by spouses or other family members. Without their help, we never would have made it!

Do we need to open another AAUW branch?

Yowza!

We have so many new members, we might have to open another branch!

Thanks to great publicity about our branch's activities and persistent members who are always inviting others to join, we are welcoming SEVEN new members.

We're excited to have these enthusiastic people join us, so be sure to greet them at our next AAUW event. And be sure to check out their Ride Circle. If it's the same as yours, personally invite them to join you!

Project: Speech Trek

--Jill Harry

- ◆ Congratulations to this year's SpeechTrek contestants! We are not exaggerating in the least when we say how impressed we were with the content and delivery of their memorized 5-6 minute speeches on the topic "Is it time to pass meeting in San Mateo in April for a chance to win up to $1,500. Congratulations to all of the students who participated. They are all winners!

We would also like to thank:

- ◆ Jill Harry for coordinating the the Equal Rights Amendment?" They made the judges' job in choosing a winner very difficult. But choose they did.

Congratulations to Hannah Swiecki who came in first place. Her video will be entered into the state-wide semi finals. If chosen, Hannah will have an opportunity to perform at the annual state event;

- ◆ AAUW members who stepped up as coaches and worked with students on delivery and presentation the past few months (and acted as cheerleaders!): Kendra Atkins, Cindy Harp, Pam Deyell Gingold, Kris Casto, and Audrey Davis;
- ◆ Our MCHS liaisons who help in so many ways including being constant resources for the students: Bryan Starchman and Kim Monson (unofficial coach to all);

- ♦ Our wonderful judges: the Honorable Michael Fagalde, Rosemarie Smallcombe, and Chevon Kothari;
- ♦ All of the AAUW volunteers who helped to make this event so successful.
- ♦ Special thanks also to the student who acted as videographer for the evening and will be posting the speeches to Youtube with the help of teacher, Walt Hebern.

Thanks to all who showed up to support these students - our future leaders!

SpeechTrek is a great experience for participating students, giving them an opportunity to hone research, writing, memorization, and presentation skills - all very important skills to have as they move on through school and careers. Thanks, everyone, for helping to make this possible!

Videos of the speeches will be posted on the AAUW website.

California AAUW

We Walked the Talk!

Several of our members laced up their shoes and took to the streets in a Women's March to support human rights. Some marched in Sacramento, some marched in Seattle, some marched in San Diego and some marched as far away as Washington D.C.

We'll let them speak for themselves in these photos and quotes.

Sacramento:

"One of 20,000 in Sacramento! One of millions in the US!" (Sue Gaunt)

Sacramento: "Thought I was crazy leaving to drive to Sacramento in the dark and pouring rain but a beautiful day, friendly smiling faces and some great signs. So glad I went." (Peggy Shainberg)

Oakhurst:

"...small but mighty showing...over 200 beautiful souls joined in a sister march..." (Lizz Darcy)

Seattle:

Sharon Enrico and Sharon Moore (behind camera lens)

California AAUW

Sacramento: (Sue Overstreet)

San Diego: "I'm not much of an activist, but marching with this huge group of diverse women and their families for a common cause was, in a word, stirring." (Dawn Johnson)

Sacramento: "...went to Sacramento with my daughter and some friends..." (Audrey Davis)

Sacramento: "Peaceful and empowering; I felt proud to be there." (Lori Tierney)

Sacramento: (Kim Monson)

Sacramento: "I found it refreshing to be in a crowd of like-minded people. It was empowering and invigorating. Let's hope we can make something come of all that positive energy!" (Jill Harry)

Let's go to AAUW State Leadership Days!

When: Saturday, April 1

Time: 9:30am - 3 pm

Where: CSU Concord
(East Bay)

These workshops aren't just for AAUW leaders. All members are welcome to share ideas about leading our organization forward.

Check out these workshop topics:

- ♦ Conflict Resolution Improvised
- ♦ Enact to Engage: Modeling the Value Promise
- ♦ Lobbying and Advocacy
- ♦ Empower, Engage, and Retain New Members

Where else can you get FOUR workshops PLUS lunch PLUS great interactions with AAUWers.

And Concord isn't that far, especially if we carpool and talk incessantly all the way down and back.

Click here to register and contact Dawn Johnson or Sandi Gabe if you'd like to carpool!

Participate in a state-wide "virtual" book club

AAUW-CA is trying something new and different and YOU can participate. It's a state-wide initiative to study the concept of Leadership: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow.

What's different?

It's a "virtual" book club. One book will be selected each year to cover the three topics. Year One covers yesterday's leadership, examined through the remarkable Eleanor Roosevelt.

The next meeting is Tuesday, March 28 at 7 pm. We'll be discussing Chapters 6 and 7. (You do not have to have read the previous chapters in order to participate.)

Lizz Darcy gave the sweetest tour at 5081 Bullion Street when it was too wet for our planned hike. She outlined the many different ways to be involved in the Pure Training Studio, from $10/class to an annual membership with 24/7 access.

THEN on Sunday, February 26, we were blessed with a wonderful, clear day when we headed to Yosemite's Badger Pass, donned snowshoes, and totally enjoyed trekking in the snow.

After all the rains, Corks and Forks finally got together at Jill Rowney's home on Friday, February 24th, to dry out. Well, we were warm but from the looks of all the empty bottles, we were only moderately successful on the drying out part.

Cindy handily won the game of "Oh Hell"

Our task was to taste a DAOU cab from Paso Robles, setting it up as the default- then to blind taste the remaining wines that were either all cabernets or a blend that contained at least 33% cabernet.. Could our palettes tell the difference?

Could we detect the cabernet grape in the blends?

Most of us had difficulty identifying blends versus cabs, BUT we had a lot of fun trying! One particular highlight of the evening was sampling the "Cuatro Barracho" cab from Jeff and Sandi Gabe.

Waiting for Snow in Havana By Carlos Eire

Discussion Review By Margaret Erhart

Waiting for Snow in Havana: Confessions of a Cuban Boy, is Carlos Eire's memoir about his life in Cuba before being one of 14,000 youth air-lifted out of Castro's Cuba during Operation Pedro Pan. Although it was a National Book Award winner, several in our small discussion group found the book a slow read and a bit disappointing. Currently a professor of religious studies and history at Yale, Eire combined tales of a boisterous childhood and odd family life--his father, a judge, thought himself the reincarnation of Louis XVI --with religious commentary that our group didn't always appreciate. Nevertheless, we had plenty to discuss and look forward to hearing about one of our member's upcoming trip to Cuba--hoping she'll be able to ignore the lizards while enjoying the turquoise seas and sun-drenched land of Eire's youth.

AAUW Mariposa Branch
Board Meeting Minutes
Library, January 2, 2017

CALL TO ORDER: at 4:09 by Co-President Rebecca Swisher

MEMBERS PRESENT: Maddie Brown, Dawn Johnson, Rebecca Swisher, Bonnie Little, Dina Lambert, Leslie Bernacchi, Sandi Gabe

Approval of Minutes from January 2016 board meeting: Minutes were submitted, reviewed, corrected, and approved via email, and will be published in the March newsletter.

PROJECT UPDATES:

Speech Trek: Jill H. via Rebecca, Maddie, Dawn

Speech Trek coming up Feb 22. An email will be sent to full membership distribution list.

Evite issue: members@aauwmariposa.com doesn't function in Evites like it does from an email message. There is an existing membership distribution list created in our AAUW Evite account. Dawn maintains this list when new members are added. This existing Evite specific distribution list should be used to ensure evite goes out to members individually.

Tech Trek: Naoko via Rebecca

Applications are due today (Feb 6). Rebecca will be scanning and sending the application to Cathy who will forward them to the reviewers. In the future when we have location/date conflicts (e.g. Washington DC trip), we can notify the state coordinator early on and they can try to accommodate the girls at a different camp location.

Women's History Month Proclamation: Maddie

Sharon Enrico will be AAUW Mariposa's official hand shaker/recipient. We have several members who were nominated and are looking forward to attending. All members are invited to attend and take a group photo after the meeting. Maddie will send out an email asking for an official photographer from our group if the photographer from the newspaper isn't attending.

FUNDRAISER UPDATES:

An Evening in Paris: Sandi Gabe

There are 3 posts per day going up on the Facebook page to share auction items. There will be a yellow line on the bid sheet for bidders to enter a special drawing. There will also be a "Buy It Now" option. The goal is to get bids up with an additional incentive. Items can be dropped off at the Fairgrounds starting at noon Friday. We may be able to pick up on Saturday if needed. There was some reconfiguration of the layout to accommodate a buffet style dessert table, as well as allow attendees to enter under the awning on the south side of the building if there is inclement weather. 66 tickets were prepaid, 26 promised, 14 working/not paid. For last year as a comparison, there were 124 sold total.

REPORTS:

Membership: Dawn Johnson

Five new members recently. Two were referrals, three through publicity. We have 97 members currently. Limited quantity of "A Member's Guide to AAUW" distributed to board. We have literature to distribute in town. Locations include Pony, the Chamber of Commerce, and the library. Suggestions for additional locations are welcome, and Dawn will put a blurb in the newsletter. It was noted that it's nice to see responses to our programs and publicity as well as member recommendation as the driving force behind new members, as opposed to actively soliciting, i.e. "tabling" at events. There is a mid-year membership discount available, via a reduction in national dues. The website application will be updated to reflect full year and mid-year costs. We will have a second new member orientation in the near future. An Evening in Paris will offer additional opportunities for new members to sign up.

Publicity: Cindy Harp via Rebecca

All outlets have been contact with the PR for An Evening in Paris. Cindy has reminded the Chamber to do an eBlast starting this week, as well as the Gazette to do a final week repeat article. The paper, SST/Gold Rush Cam, and Sierra News Online have been contacted to publish Speech Trek PR. Maddie will email Cindy about Women's History Month Proclamation.

Programs: Leslie Bernacchi

There was a very positive public and internal reception to January's Finances program. Due to inclement weather, some hoping to attend were unable to stay for the full duration, while others were not able to attend at all. Despite the bad weather, each seat at the round table set up was full. There have been requests for additional finance-based events in the future. There is not a February program. March will feature Defenders of Wildlife with Pam Flick, April will feature the Arts Council with Cara Goger, and May will feature The Sierra Foothill Conservancy with Nancy Fluharty. Leslie will get the information to Cindy for the March program. The board will look into the 96 minute documentary "Before the Flood".

Treasurer's Report: Dina Lambert

February will be a busy month for branch finances. Change needs for the front table for An Evening in Paris were discussed. The January financial statements were circulated. The ending cash balance as of January 31 was $12,559.68. Net income for the month was $20.30. Copies of the financial statements are available from the board secretary. Bonnie motioned to approve the Treasurer's Report and Leslie seconded the motion. Approved by all in attendance.

ACTION ITEMS – none

NEW BUSINESS

By-Laws: We may be interested in looking into By-Law changes to accommodate trends in board roles and different ways we can encourage members to participate. National By-Law changes will be required after April. Some items will need board approval. We would like to encourage branch members to attend board meetings to see the process and learn more about various roles. "In Training" or "Co-" type board roles encourage sharing of "institutional knowledge" and can help ensure smooth transitions as members take on various roles.

National Conference: The DC National Conference is June 14-17. Prices will continue to increase as the date approaches.

Women's March: Maddie will send out an email all call for photos from Women's March.

Advocacy: We have many passionate members that may be interested in getting involved with public policy. There used to be a Public Policy and Advocacy position, and we would like to see who is interested in this potential role. Around Equal Pay Day in April, we hope to have a gathering called "Cocktails and Convos" for members to gather in a casual environment and discuss a variety of public policy related topics. This will be added to March's agenda. Sandi will make a Facebook post and Dawn will email the group encouraging members to attend Aileen Rizzo's court case in San Francisco on February 17. Aileen spoke at the State Convention last year about her battle for equal pay after moving to California from Arizona. This case covers both gender pay equity and the ability of employers to ask your previous salary to establish your new salary.

Assignment of Branch Buzz:

In the branch buzz email, please encourage SIG coordinators to reference the online calendar to avoid scheduling conflicts.

March-Dina

April-Maddie

The meeting was adjourned by Co-President Rebecca Swisher at 5:47 PM. Maddie moved and Bonnie seconded the motion. Adjournment approved by all in attendance.
