Life or Death of Mariposa's Hospital

—Saralynn Nusbaum
aka Roseanne Roesannadana

No, the above photo is not me though my hair sometimes does look like this...It's Roseanne Roesannadana, a character from Saturday Night Live circa the 1970s. She was SNL's consumer affairs reporter and she would pose absurd questions to which she would respond with nonsensical rambling answers. Somehow I am channeling Roseanne as I contemplate explaining why we need to keep our hospital. Why? Because I think this is an absurd question.

Why WOULDN'T we want to keep our hospital? Unlike Roseanne, however, I will attempt to stay on point with my answer.

John C. Fremont Hospital (JCF) is facing closure in 2030 for failure to meet California's strict seismic safety standards. You may recall, in 2020, Measure N was placed on the ballot; it did not gather the threshold needed to pass. Measure O, which will be on the June ballot, differs from Measure N in three key ways:

- It imposes a "sunset" to terminate the one percent sales tax after 40 years. The current 0.5% sales tax is set to expire, so the District will only be receiving 1.5% for just over two of the 40 years, from January 2023 to March 2025, after which the total will be 1.0% or a one-half percentage point increase over what is being paid now. By the time it expires, that tax will have paid off previous debt (in the form of bonds) to fund an expansion project that began in 1994 to enable the District to offer more services and achieve its current strong financial footing. Good finances are essential to getting an affordable bond or loan for building the new hospital and making the other improvements being funded by Measure O. A 1% sales tax will raise approximately $2,800,000 annually, and inflation will cause that amount to increase over the years. It is important to note that about one-third of Mariposa County's total sales tax receipts come from purchases made by tourists.

- It revises the Expenditure Plan to more clearly describe how the funds can be spent.
- It adds an "Accountability and Transparency" section to require more rigorous accounting.

If passed, Measure O will provide these benefits to the residents of Mariposa County for generations to come:

- Prevent our hospital and its emergency room from losing their license to operate in 2030 for failure to comply with California's seismic safety standards
- Ensure that our hospital and its emergency room can stay open and remain fully operational during any natural disaster, including a major earthquake, to provide essential medical care 24/7
- Enable the expansion and/or enhancement of emergency and other medical care to treat more patients more quickly and more effectively
- Replace diagnostic and patient support equipment that becomes outdated with modern, state-of-the-art technology
- Expand and enhance the services being offered in both the Mariposa and Northside clinics
- Make it easier for the Healthcare

District, with a new, modern facility, to attract and retain the highly qualified medical professionals, including specialists, needed to better serve our community

If Measure O does NOT pass:

Most of you probably know what is meant by "the golden hour." The golden hour is the term often used in trauma or emergency care to suggest that an injured or sick person must receive definitive treatment within the first 60 minutes from the time of injury or appearance of symptoms. This is particularly critical for stroke victims. Without our hospital it is quite unlikely care could be provided within this time frame.

Some have asked why not replace JCF with an urgent care clinic? Urgent care clinics are not a substitute for emergency rooms. They rarely operate 24/7 and invariably lack the sophisticated medical imaging and patient support equipment needed to diagnose and treat medical emergencies, such as traumatic injuries, strokes, heart attacks, and other potentially life-threatening conditions. So, let's jump ahead to 2031 and we have no hospital; you've badly cut yourself trying to be clever with a chainsaw. You scramble to the car, race to the urgent care clinic, and there is a sign on the door, "Back After Lunch."

JCF employs 200 people which represents a payroll of roughly $12M. These employees likely have partners who are employed in the county and they might have children. If the hospital closes, many of these families will be forced to leave the county. When they leave, they will no longer frequent our local businesses, attend our churches, support our community organizations, AAUW among many others, and their children will no longer attend our schools. Our thriving community will become one of those sleepy little former gold rush towns that dot Highway 49.

So, to sum up, as Roseanne Roesannadana would say, "It just goes to show you. It's always something. If it's not one thing, it's another."

Make your voice heard and vote on Measure O!

AAUW Mariposa is hosting a Candidates' Forum for the contested supervisors' races in Districts 1 and 3. It is open to the public and will be held on Wednesday, April 13th at 6:00 pm in the Supervisors' Board Room located at 5100 Bullion Street in Mariposa.

The candidates planning to participate are:

District 1 Supervisor-

- Rosemarie Smallcombe
- Greg Royse

District 3 Supervisor-

- Danette Toso
- Andre Wright

Candidate Forum

Wednesday, April 13

6:00 pm

Board of Supervisors' Meeting Room

AAUW invites everyone to come with questions for these candidates. Index cards will be handed out upon entry and a moderator will address the questions to the candidates. This will avoid repetition of the questions and keep the event moving along. We hope many can join us for this important event to learn about these candidates running in the supervisors' races.

Spotlight on Sandi Gabe

—Kim Monson

On June 30th this year Dianne Owens, the current president of AAUW California, will pass the leadership baton to our own Sandi Gabe. WOW, a Mariposan as prez! Is that cool or what? Sandi has been the President-elect for the past year, working closely with Dianne to learn the ropes and brainstorm new and exciting paths for AAUW California. So what do you all know about Sandi Gabe? Well, read on.....

Sandi was born in Mount Clemens, Michigan, and lived in New Haven through high school, both cities a bit north of Detroit. She married right out of high school and moved with her new husband to Hawaii where he was stationed with the army. Sandi worked, went to school, and participated in all those activities expected of a military wife.

After moving to San Francisco, Sandi found work in the healthcare industry in IT management. She attended San Francisco State University and earned a BS in Economics. She started working on a master's degree, but her job and kids (two beautiful daughters) took the majority of her time, so that degree was not completed. We all know how hard it is just to balance career and kids; now imagine throwing school into it! Well, something had to give. Sandi also met Jeff Gabe in San Francisco and they married in 1990.

Both Sandi and Jeff were into hiking, so when Jeff wanted to retire in 2006 they looked into settling in Arizona as well as in the Sierra Foothills. However, on a trip to Mariposa and Yosemite, they happened by the Casto Oaks Winery where they met Harold and Kris Casto and Karen Smith. At that time, Karen was working as a realtor. They were shown the house they now own, went home to think about it, and came back to look again. SOLD! Sandi and Jeff were now Mariposans.

Sandi soon found the Agri-Nature Trails. On this fun expedition, she met Sharon Enrico who told Sandi that she had to join Jazzercise and AAUW and that is how our organization lucked into this dynamic organizer.

You all know that Sandi has been the guiding force behind our wonderful fundraising dinners. She has also been involved in Tech Trek and our Leadership Board. So now Sandi is bringing her talent to the whole state.

Dawn Johnson has applied to run for a Board of Directors position and Sandi hopes you will cast a ballot in the election. As you know Sandi and Dawn are a dynamic duo!

Three girls proceed to interviews

—Trish Darcy

We only had three girls submit applications this year and they are all going through the selection process. Their applications have all been scored and the interviews will take place on April 2nd. Thank you to Karen Sutton, Rick Uebner, Dawn Johnson, Jill Harry and Naoko Kada for reading and scoring the applications. Our interview team on the 2nd will consist of Vinita Bali, Sara Robison, and Becky Mock with Judy Eppler on standby in case someone gets sick and can't make it! This program really could not run without the help of our membership and we thank you all!

Yosemite: Past and Present

—Trish Darcy

Our March 13th program on Yosemite was a great success! So many people came out to enjoy the speakers-members as well as non-members. Headcounts varied from 50 to 55, but at any rate, it was wonderful to see a large group of people.

Both Emily and Laurel shared with us many new insights into the park. Emily shared with us the website to go to if you would like to help the Southern Sierra Miwuk gain national recognition. If you would like to help them by writing a letter, click here for a link with more information. Laurel spoke to us about how the park has changed over the years and the impact that has had on its resources.

Both of these women were inspirational and showed us what an impact women can have in our national parks.

Member Corner: Idea exchange

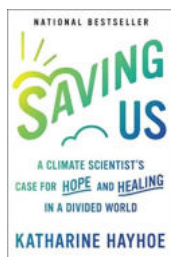

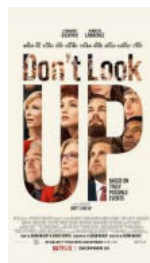

Our members share what we have found enlightening and entertaining

—Bonnie Little

Beth Tomsick recommends "Inventing Anna" on Netflix. The series is based on the true story of a young woman who scammed high society and New York lawyers by claiming to be a wealthy German heiress named Anna Delvey. From 2013 to 2017, she defrauded or intentionally deceived major financial institutions, banks, hotels, and acquaintances in the United States for over $275,000. She served almost four years in jail in the U.S. and may be deported back to Germany. There are nine episodes available.

Beth also endorsed many recommendations that have been presented in Member Corner. She enjoyed the novel The Sentence, the movie "Don't Look Up", and the book Saving Us which she read as part of Gary Colliver's climate SIG.

Jill Harry watched "We Need to Talk About Cosby" which can be seen on Showtime, Hulu, YouTube TV, and other streaming platforms. This four-episode series starts with Cosby's early days on television and goes through his conviction and release from prison. Interviews with his victims, former coworkers, and others influenced by him are featured. The series explores how Cosby's public persona was so drastically different from his private behavior. We are forced to reconcile what we once believed about a beloved entertainer versus the harm he inflicted on so many victims.

Jill also recommends a science fiction novel titled Ancillary Justice which was the debut book from author Anne Leckie. This novel, which won numerous awards, is the first part of the Imperial Radch trilogy.

The main character is Breq, who was once the AI system of a battalion spaceship called "Justice of Toren." Now Breq is an ancillary (think soldier) who is on a mission to avenge the death of her former leader, Captain Awn, of whom she was especially fond. Jill says that the characters are richly drawn and the book sparks many philosophical questions and thoughts. It would be an interesting book club selection. Jill is looking forward to the next two books in the trilogy, Ancillary Sword and Ancillary Mercy.

Many thanks to Beth and Jill for these great suggestions and to all members who enjoy these recommendations and give feedback!

Remembering Margaret Brandenburg

It is with great sadness that we share with you the passing on February 18th of long-time dynamic and beloved member Margaret Brandenburg. Many of you remember Margaret for her many years as an active leader in a wide variety of roles in AAUW. Margaret was a role model for many of us and ardently supported the mission of AAUW with her energy, creativity, spirit, and financial gifts. Even after her health prompted her to move to Clovis to be closer to family and medical support, Margaret continued to support Mariposa AAUW. She will be sorely missed.

We were not silent about "Silent Sky"

—Dawn Johnson

Back in February (remember that far?), the Play Reading Group gathered to read "Silent Sky," a 2015 play by Lauren Gunderson about real-life female astronomer Henrietta Leavitt in the 1800s. Who knew STEM could be so entertaining?

Her story of proving herself in the man's world of astronomy at Harvard University was surprisingly relevant. In the author's words, "We're not asking anyone to let us participate, we are exclaiming that we have participated in discoveries, breakthroughs, and wild achievement all along." It gave us plenty to talk about.

It was a delightfully readable script, with light humor and sweet moments. But, as we should, we learned something too. We are now educated about what cepheid stars are. If you are as curious a person as Henrietta was, you can skip the play and just Google it.

The group skipped the March play because it sounded quite dreary. But April's offering of "Night Watch" by Louse Fletcher sounds

Russia and the US

—Becky Mock

The Great Decisions group met on March 16 to discuss a very timely Great Decisions Topic, "Russia and the US." Allen C. Lynch writes in his article Putin's Russia, "...the balance of power between Moscow and Washington in favor of the latter combined with irreconcilable objectives regarding the international status of Russia's historical borderlands undermined leaders' efforts to build a stable and mutually beneficial relationship." It is confounding to most Americans how the Russian people appear to support Putin, but he has had successes in creating a stable economy and re-establishing Russian cultural pride at home. Putin's desire to expand Russian influence to that of the Soviet Union and the threat of NATO expansion has contributed to Putin's actions. This is coupled with Putin amending existing laws that potentially extend his term limits to 2036 while concurrently neutralizing any political opposition. The invasion of Ukraine is an extension of Putin's actions since he has been in power.

Our next meeting will be Wednesday, April 20, 2022, at 4:30. The topics will be "The Renewed Climate Change Agenda" and "Changing Demographics in the World." Betty Massey will be hosting and will be lead the discussion.
