AAUW for ALL ages!

—Trish Darcy

Our AAUW Mariposa Branch has some fantastic women and men as members, don't you think? Our talents and interests are extensive and so varied! It is one of the things that makes us such a fun group to be a part of.

Have you noticed that we all seem to be of the same age? What will happen to our branch as fewer of us rejoin each year? We have wonderful projects, but what would happen if we had some younger members join us with new, creative ideas? Well, we would benefit greatly, of course!

This year we would like to focus on growing our membership, especially recruiting some younger people. We are planning an event on Sunday, October 9th from 2-4 at the town park. Please come to our event and bring a friend or two or twenty! They can be of any age, of course, but bring along any younger ones you can find.

Each SIG will have a representative there and we'll also have someone from each of our projects. This will give people an overview of who we are and what we do. We will have membership forms and anyone who joins that day will get the discounted rate as well as be put into a drawing for prizes!

You can help us by sharing the event on social media, forwarding the email about the event,

Covid Corner— Staying safe through these next winter months

-Jody Sergienko

Even as it seemed this summer would never end, the cooler weather has been gradually weaving its way in.

With that comes indoor gatherings and the question, “Should I mask or not?” The state of California has decided to leave the question of masking up to the individuals this year. Officials tell us that if you are not comfortable or find yourself in a large crowd, by all means, wear a mask!

Fall also brings the start of flu season for us! And yes, those flu shots are here and available to us all. When you do go in for that annual flu shot, go ahead and get one of the new reformatted Covid vaccines as well. They are targeting the current second-most common strains.

Is the Covid endemic in our community? Is the pandemic over? Epidemiologists believe that this winter will be the deciding season to answer both of those questions.

Stay well!

See you soon!

Community Event:

Election Forum

Another successful candidate forum

—Dina Lambert

We should all be proud of ourselves for becoming informed voters! We had over 55 Mariposa citizens (including many AAUW members) attend our sponsored event held at the Mariposa County Board of Supervisors' chamber on September 28, 2022. We streamed the forum live on our Facebook page and had another dozen or so citizens watch from the comfort of their homes. The video is still available on AAUW-Mariposa | Facebook for those of you unable to attend. We heard so many positive comments from the attendees on how well organized our event was.

The public was invited to submit questions for the candidates running for the Mariposa County Union School District Board (MCUSD) and the John C. Fremont Hospital District Board (JCFHD). The purpose of the forum is to encourage the free exchange of ideas between the community and candidates. The forum provides a chance for the candidates to hear issues of importance to the community as well as an opportunity for the community to learn about the candidates' positions on issues and their qualifications for the open positions.

Candidates for MCUSD District 1 Trustee:

- Kim Monson,
- Robert Hill
- Gail Pioske

MCUSD District 3 Trustee:

- Kelly Salonen (not in attendance)
- Robert Morse.

Candidates for the JCFHD 2-year term:

- Linda Pribyl
- Rose Fluharty
- Suzette Prue
- Teresa Johnson

JCFHD 4-year term:

- Candy O'Donnel Browne
- Wendy Ryder-Priola
- Nicholas R. Lambert

Thank you to all the volunteers who made this event run without a hitch! We would like to thank Doug Binnewies for moderating the event (last minute since Jim Allen was stuck in San Diego). Special thanks to Karen Smith for sorting through all the audience questions, Jill Rowney for timing each candidate's response, and to Jody Sergienko for introducing AAUW and helping with organizing the forum.

Member Corner: Idea exchange

Our members share what we have found enlightening and entertaining

—Bonnie Little

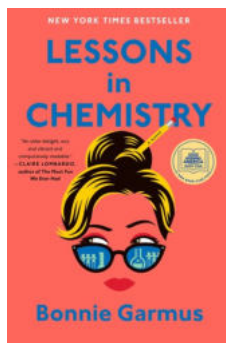

Peggy Shainberg recommends two books as very good reads.

The first is The Weight of Ink by Rachel Kaddish. The book is historical fiction dealing with the lives of two extraordinary women whose paths are connected across centuries. Ester Velasquez is a Portuguese Jewish female scribe and philosopher living in London in the 1600s.

Helen Watt is a present-day historian who is trying to preserve Ester's voice through research. The author goes back and forth in time, tying the characters and manuscripts together. The story reinforces the incredible power of words. The description of life in London in the 1600s was very interesting to Peggy, and it inspired her to learn more about the plague and the great fire that took place there.

The second novel is Lessons in Chemistry by Bonnie Garmus. The story takes place in the 1950s and 1960s. The main character is Elizabeth Zott, a female research scientist who is determined to make it in what was then very much a man's world. She was a woman ahead of her time, defying the norms in her profession, and also as an unmarried woman living with her partner, and later a single mother. Eventually, Elizabeth winds up as the reluctant star of a popular cooking show and becomes well known for her rather unorthodox cooking style. Besides cooking, she is encouraging women to change the status quo. Peggy enjoyed the characters and mentioned "an intelligent daughter and a smart dog". Thank you, Peggy, for the diverse and interesting recommendations!

Do you like Elvis? I do, and I enjoyed the recent movie about his life and the excellent portrayal by a talented actor. I also discovered on HBO a two-part documentary called Elvis Presley: The Searcher. The series explores his life as a child in Tupelo, Mississippi, and extends to his final recording sessions in 1976. It features many interviews with producers, engineers, celebrities, and friends who knew him well throughout his life. For me, the most interesting parts were the actual photos and videos from different times in Elvis's life, and extensive content about how his music was heavily influenced by performers in Memphis, Tennessee in the 1940s and 1950s.

I hope that the recommendations in "Member Corner" are interesting and stimulating for you, and have provided you with some inspiration and new ideas. This feature is by you and for you, so please keep sending me your ideas and suggestions!

Spotlight on Kendra Wilde

—Kim Monson

Kendra Wilde was born and raised in the Southern California town of Temple City, which is just southeast of Pasadena. She left home to take a liberal arts study major, followed up by a teaching credential at California Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks, California. She moved to Port Townsend, WA to teach and pursue a Masters in Education- School Counseling. Many years later, after getting married, Kendra and her ex moved to San Clemente to raise their boys, Blake, Luke, and Cole. She worked for a private school teaching Microsoft Office for a couple of years but spent most of her time in San Clemente with the kids. That's probably where she developed her love for the beach!

Kendra is rightly proud of her boys. Blake graduated from Berkeley with a BA in economics after playing baseball for four years with the UC Bears. He's now at the University of San Francisco pursuing a masters in sports management while playing baseball for one last year of NCAA eligibility (thanks, Covid). Luke is pursuing an Environmental Studies/ Economics major at UC Santa Cruz, and Cole is graduating from MCHS this year.

Next Kendra earned her Special Education credential through the Los Angeles Office of Education, taking night classes while teaching Special Ed K–2 in Downey, California. At this time, I have to express my admiration for Kendra and all the other Special Ed teachers and aides out there. That is one tough job that requires an extreme amount of patience that I just don't have. Thank you, Kendra!

Kendra and her boys

Kendra and her family moved to Mariposa in 2010, and took a job teaching Special Ed at Mariposa County High School. After living in Merced for the first year, a decision was made that Mariposa would be a great place to raise the boys. She has now been teaching at Mariposa Elementary School for the past couple of years.

And did you know that Kendra is quite the world traveler? She has visited the Middle East, Israel, Turkey, Europe, the Caribbean, Jamaica and Costa Rica. Many of those trips allowed her to indulge her love of the ocean through scuba diving. Keeping with the theme, Kendra loves sushi, she spends a lot of her off time reading and spending time with her partner, Adam.

So, Kendra, where are you going on your next trip and can we come too?

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 4 at 4:00 pm at the home of Saralynn Nusbaum. We will be discussing: Single-Handedly By Ruth Rathblott

The Lincoln Highway

by Amor Towles

Discussion notes

by Peggy Shainberg

The book group met at Saralynn's for a lively discussion of The Lincoln Highway by Amor Towles. He also wrote A Gentleman in Moscow that our group had read some time ago. The consensus was that we all liked The Lincoln Highway, although some members offered a few negative, questioning comments. Towles developed some interesting characters and often related a single situation from two or more characters' points of view. None of us expected the ending that ensued.

One chapter described a family dinner. Saralynn found a website, The Book Club Cookbook where one can find recipes inspired by the story. In this case, Duchess created a fettucine dinner for his friends and it is further explained on this site: Amor Towles's Fettucine Mio Amore Recipe .

The Art SIG members, Cindy Harp and Jody Sergienko met up at the Mariposa County fair.

On the 3rd at 10am, we met at the Arts & Crafts building to view the fair entries. There were so many unique and differing offerings to see. We saw fiber arts such as crochet and quilting, then on to paintings and photography. We voted for our favorite in each category.

We also visited the home arts building to see baking, canning, and the arts in growing plants. Both Cindy and I came away inspired to not only go again but to keep creating ourselves.

High hopes dashed by underground perils

—Jill Rowney

Oh, the woes of gardening in the Sierra foothills! We were applying precious water to the ever-drying soil succumbing to 105+ temperatures of August. Ah, but the plants were green and lush! Ah, but it was too hot for blossoms to set. And those that DID set, had other perils to face!

I celebrated the beautiful butternut squash that decorated the vines. Some were hanging from a “trellis fence,” but some lay peacefully on the ground... a little too peacefully! Surprise! Attacked from below, their beauty was only on top! Upon turning the squash, I found huge bites removed and gopher holes directly beneath! I think my cats need less food in their bowls and a little more incentive to use their innate skills!

The Garden group met at the 1850 Restaurant on Tuesday, the 27th to plan some outings. We’re looking forward to the Farm and Ranch Tour on October 15.

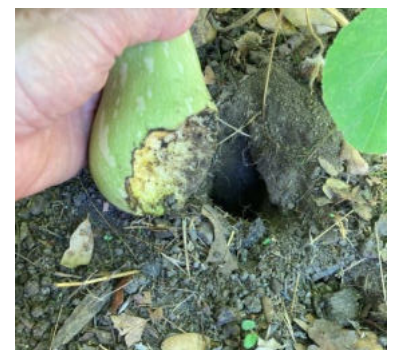

Lush tomato plants in September: What!?!? Only two small cherry tomatoes???

What a beautiful squash... Until it was turned over!

In my garden, there are two zucchinis left that just might grow big enough to make it into zucchini bread.. They were dangerously close to the ground, so now they rest atop some gopher wire. Now just try to taste those juicy morsels, you nasty little rodents!!!

Silenced by “Silent Sky” but will be laughing with “Nude with Violin”

—Dawn Johnson

The Play Reading Group took a road trip to see “Silent Sky” at Oakhurst’s Golden Chain Theater because we had read and loved it. After watching the performance, we loved it even more. It was powerful enough to make some of us weep a little and some of us actually be silenced a little. It was a wonderful performance, comedic at times, dramatic at times, and very moving at times. Coupled with a great lunch exploring new and yummy food at Tandoori Express and dodging the rain, we had a wonderful afternoon.

Our next play reading will be “Nude with Violin” by Noel Coward, a light comedy satirizing the hypocrisy of modern art written in the 1950's. It has a host of characters including a Russian princess, an ex-show girl, and a character described as "mute but effective."

Not sure how we'll read that part. :-)

We're meeting Wednesday, Oct 5th, at 10:00am at my house.

Kim bought a pop up for us to use for the backpack giveaway so said not to purchase another one. Anne will research having a new banner made that we can use with the pop up. It was discussed to use the official AAUW insignia from the state and add some poppies and AAUW Mariposa. We can use Canva to design it. Anne will also ask about a stand for our existing banner. Rebecca came up with a possible sentence for the banner- "Empowering women through research, education, and advocacy since 1881." Anne will check the price of that. If it is too expensive, we don't have to do it.
